INFANTILE PARALYSIS ON DECLINE IN STATE

Although a score of cases of infantile paralysis have recently been reported in Wisconsin, there are no traces of the disease locally, according to health authorities.

One death from the disease was reported from near Black Creek a few weeks ago but since that time no cases of illness with similar symptoms have been reported.

Most of the infantile paralysis in Wisconsin is in the southern part of the state, near the Illinois border. The outbreak over the United States last week was partly due to the sudden change in temperature. Cool weather has aided in checking spread of the illness.

Mrs. Dumas Says Gas Took Her Breath

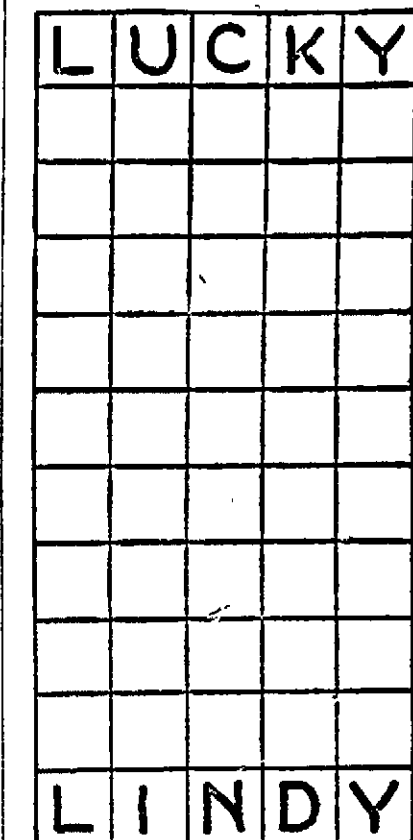

"I had gas on the stomach so bad that I could hardly breathe. Every thing I ate went against me. After I began taking Adierka, the gas left me and I eat everything."—Mrs. E. J. Dumas.

Adierka differs from most medicine because it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. It gives the system a REAL cleansing, and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adierka brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adierka will surprise you. Velet's Drug Store and Schintz Bros. Co. adv.

Polish Wedding Described In State Magazine Issue

You are invited to a Polish wedding. "Jecz cha nacha!" This is the continual call of the bride's father as the wedding guests participate in a Polish folk dance, according to the latest issue of the Wisconsin magazine. The words mean "Yes sir! She is still ours!"

The call rings out clearly above music produced by a grey-haired, hunchbacked violinist, a blond youth with an overlarge accordion and a very stolid brown-faced drummer. The dance, showing even the sons and daughters of their generation the stateliness of the polka. The father is weatherbeaten, his leathery complexion blending with his brown suit.

His cry is repeated until the guests leave, the wedding dance is over and he can no longer say "Jecz cha nacha!"

The magazine continues with the description: "The barn, which was the wedding dance hall, was lighted by kerosene lamps hung from the rafters; many red, white and blue streamers of crepe paper were wound in and out among the post-and rafters; and the floor itself was scrubbed and planed in some places where it was not hidden by the black shadows of the rafters and posts it fairly gleamed in the lamplight. A plank bench was built around the floor, and, opposite the huge haymow doors, a platform for the orchestra had been erected.

"Twenty-five or thirty years before the immigrants had purchased the wild cut-over land from the lumber companies, and with nothing but indomitable will and a capacity for ceaseless toil, they developed the country. Poor farmers they still are; many of them are heavily in debt, but instead of four acres in Poland, they may own 40 or 80 acres in America, and even the poorest rejoices in his new freedom. The weddings are more frequent in recent years because those of the first generation are old enough to marry, giving them their one opportunity to celebrate.

The bridal dance begins at nine o'clock and ends near midnight. It takes the place of our custom of giving wedding presents. A large circle is made by the guests. On the inside the father of the bride stands with a plate and with the bride in wedding dress and veil just as she appeared at the church ceremony before breakfast.

"The first man to put a dollar or more on the plate has the first dance around the circle. Unless he returns to the starting place near the father and there deposits another bill, his turn ends and the next man who contributes begins his dance with the bride. This continues for hours, and the money given to the bride frequently totals as much as $700.

"If a silver dollar is thrown with enough force to break the plate, he who throws it may have two dances with the bride. Always, above the excitement, the old father shouts, "Jecz cha nacha!" The bridal dance ends when the gifts come, or when the bride becomes fatigued.

"Then the Polish grandmothers present take off the bride's veil, and like our bridal bouquet, a pin or a bit of lace is tossed to the guests.

"A Polish wedding in northern Wisconsin begins early in the morning with the church ceremony and does not cease until the wedding cake is cut after the dance. This is usually near the dawn of the next day."

ASSAILANT DENIES HE WIELDED KNIFE

Hilbert Man Still Held in Connection With Farmer's Death

Louis Kuslo, Hilbert farmer, accused of slaying Joseph Cielo, Hilbert, who died at St. Elizabeth hospital two weeks ago following a night brawl in Hilbert, continues to deny he used a knife. He does admit, however, that he might have cut Cielo by striking him with a club, according to District Attorney Frederick C. Aebischer of Chilton, who left for Madison this week to confer with state experts on the case.

The dead man's internal organs were sent to a state pathologist at Madison to determine whether the blows alleged to have been struck by Kuslo might have caused the death. Kuslo is still held without charge in the Calumet-co jail. In view of the fact that nearly three weeks have passed without a report on the medical examination, steps are being taken to obtain his release on a court writ, it is said. A coroner's jury has also postponed its hearing until a report has been received on the Madison tests.

Cielo was found semi-conscious in a ditch near Hilbert. He was bleeding profusely and seemed to have been slashed about the face and beaten and bruised about the body. He was removed to an Appleton hospital, where he died the next morning. A post mortem examination indicated peritonitis developed from an internal rupture, which may have been the result of a beating.

Kuslo a few months ago was in juvenile court in Chilton on a charge of mistreating his children and one of them was taken away from him by the state.

Old settlers of Outagamie county will meet Thursday afternoon, Oct. 13, at Hotel Northern to exchange greetings, reminiscences, adventures of the "old days" and renew old acquaintances, according to plans completed this week. The meeting will open with a banquet at noon. The afternoon program will be informal, including talks by "old timers," music, and reminiscences of adventures and perils in the early days of the county. Even if some of the settlers are unable to be present for the banquet they are invited to attend the afternoon program.

Beside the songs and "old timer" stories, card games will be a part of the program. All reservations must be mailed to the hotel not later than Oct. 10 or must be delivered to W. M. Roblee, 212 N. Superior-st.

DISCUSS INCREASED SALARY FOR MAYOR

Talk at City Hall about Making Office a Full-time Position With More Pay

City officials Wednesday were discussing the action of the common council of Madison, in placing the office of mayor on a full-time basis and increasing the mayor's salary from $2,000 to $4,000 per year.

If the action does not take effect legally until it again is affirmed by the Madison common council the first council meeting in February. The action was taken at this time so that the budget committee, in preparing the budget for 1928, will make allowance for the increase in the mayor's salary.

The change in salary is not effective during the term of the present mayor but if he is reelected, the change becomes effective at the start of his next term of office.

There has been some talk around the city hall regarding the advisability of placing the office of mayor on a fulltime, increased pay basis in Appleton. At the present time the mayor's salary is $1,800 a year. The work has gradually increased in the past two years until at the present time Mayor A. C. Rule spends practically all his time in the mayor's office.

Mayor Rule is planning on running for reelection next spring but he says that if the pay is not increased, he will work in the office in the mornings only, devoting the afternoons to private business, in the event he is reelected.

If the salary of the office is increased, it is probable that the mayor will act as a purchasing agent for the city and will have charge of all operations of the street department.

He further states that the hair roots always stay alive and that in 85 out of 100 cases where hair is falling out or baldness has set in, a growth of new hair can be had in a short time by following his simple directions. He will gladly explain his method without cost to those interested in restoring or saving their hair. Write him today. adv.

The opening event was a banquet served at 7 o'clock by the ladies of the church. The Rev. Charles Fritz of Neenah told the progress of St. Paul church which was established through the influence of the Oshkosh church. Although the Neenah church is a child of St. John church, the Neenah congregation rivals the "mother" church. Emlyn Owens, organist, will play a recital during the first part of the Sunday evening services.

FOOLHARDY DRIVER LOSES RACE WITH TRAIN

Neenah—A Milwaukee driver whose name was not learned, nearly collided with a locomotive Wednesday evening when he tried to beat a Soo line freight train across the Winnebago crossing. Witnesses said the driver was going east on highway 41 at a high rate of speed and refused to stop at the warnings. He reached the railroad tracks just as the train was backing across. He had presence of mind enough to turn his car sharply to the left and run down the tracks for about 100 feet before he stopped. Several other cars stopped at the warning but the Milwaukee driver passed them all in his attempt to get across the tracks ahead of the train.

There has been a continued demand since the opening of the season, with 50 to 100 applications each day. Of this number six were from people living outside the state. The majority of those securing licenses in this county do their hunting on Poygan, Butte des Morts and along the shore of Lake Winnebago.

Menasha—The condition of Chris Olson of Manitowoc, who suffered a fractured skull Tuesday night when struck by an automobile driven by Elmer Kloeber of Neenah continues about the same as it was Wednesday. Olson carried an identification card bearing the name of Melvin Roberts of Crandon in his suitcase and it was at first supposed that was his name. Attendants at Theda Clark hospital where he was conveyed learned from him that his name was Olson and that he has a brother at Manitowoc. In explaining his possession of the identification card he said it was given to him by his brother before he left Manitowoc for the purpose of looking up Roberts when he reached Crandon.

MISS TOONEN AGAIN FOUND GUILTY; FINE INCREASED TO $100

Woman Convicted of Assaulting Companion's Wife Says She Will Appeal

Miss Agnes Toonen was found guilty by a jury in circuit court Wednesday afternoon of a charge of assault and battery preferred by Mrs. Louis Bergman, Chicago. Miss Toonen had appealed from the lower branch of municipal court in which she had been found guilty and fined $50 and costs. Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court Thursday morning fined Miss Toonen $100 and costs not to exceed $50. Miss Toonen stated Thursday noon she will appeal to the state supreme court.

In imposing the fine Judge Werner told Miss Toonen that she had been twice convicted of the same charge and it was his decision that the fine be increased. In default of the payment she must spend 30 days in the county jail.

The alleged assault took place Saturday evening, Aug. 20 on N. and S. Appleton-st when Mrs. Bergman tried to take her husband away from Miss Toonen. Miss Toonen admitted on the witness stand that she had been "going around" with Bergman for over a year but said she did not know he was married. She testified that when she learned he was married she refused to see him and met him that Saturday afternoon to make arrangements to sell an automobile which they had owned jointly, so she could get some of her money back.

"You must disregard the fact that Miss Toonen was in the company of a married man," Frank Wheeler, attorney for Miss Toonen, declared in his final argument to the jury, "because she was not aware of the fact that he was married. Furthermore, in this modern day and age, an occurrence of this kind is not uncommon. The divorce courts are filled with cases which have grown out of a 'friendship' of this kind. Miss Toonen was unfortunately drawn into a family squabble without any intention on her part and she was merely protecting herself from the assaults of Mrs. Bergman and did not commit an assault herself."

The jury received the case at 4 o'clock and was back with its verdict in about half an hour.

Stanley Studd, assistant district attorney, prosecuted the case.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Peterson of Manitowish were Appleton visitors Thursday.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton O. Work

The pointer for today is: KING AND TWO SMALL CARDS OF PARTNER'S SUIT IS SO MUCH MORE THAN NORMAL SUPPORT THAT WITH IT ANOTHER DECLARATION SHOULD NOT BE MADE UNLESS THE HAND IS EXCEPTIONALLY STRONG.

This week we are considering twenty hands, all supposed to be held by North, South (Dealer) having bid one Heart and West (Second Hand) having passed:

Four of these hands are discussed each day.

No. 9. North should pass. The Spade bid is tempting but unsound when holding more than normal support in partner's Hearts and only five Spades; a denial is justified even with an honor score and there is a better chance for game at Hearts than would exist if a false denial were made.

WATER DEPARTMENT MEN

REPAIRING LEAKY PIPES

Water department workmen, having completed the major jobs of laying mains, now are busy repairing leaks in water pipes all over the city. Repair work is delayed during the summer months, when all energies are directed to installation of new city mains.

Leaks are repaired at all times during the year. Old pipes are continually breaking or leaking and they are replaced with new material. An average of four or five repair jobs are handled each week by employees of the water department, except during January and February. Frost in the ground those two months makes it impossible to do any repair work on leaky pipes unless it is absolutely necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Mc Carthy of La Crosse returned home Thursday after spending several days with relatives here.

Spades, a denial is justified even with King and two others of partner's suit. It is an "insurance" call protecting partner should he have opened the auction with a four-card bid. It is a case in which honors can be considered.

No. 11. Pass. In spite of the temptation to bid No Trump, it would be foolhardy to risk the running of the adverse Spades.

No. 12. One No Trump. The hand promises to produce a larger score at that declaration. It has a No Trump distribution and every suit but Hearts stopped at least twice. The obvious advantage of having North the Closed Hand to be led up to, constitutes another reason for the take-out.

The four hands to be considered tomorrow are:

Your Question And Its Answer

By J. A. PANNECK, D. C.
Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION: I am a young woman, not at all well. I contract diseases very easily. My doctor tells me that I have low resistance, which makes me susceptible to diseases. I am discouraged and melancholy. If I decide to take Chiropractic Adjustments from you how can I gain better health? Please explain.

ANSWER: The energy by which the body is run accumulates in the brain and stores in the nervous system where it is automatically released and conveyed to the cells, giving them life and power to perform healthy functions. All healing is done by this internal force of nature—force resident in the brain, the nerves and the cells. All vital energy is nerve energy. When that vital power is free to flow in abundance in a man he will get well from almost any disease or injury short of complete destruction of vital organs. The healing consists in the repairing in the diseased tissues and organs, and in the cells restoring and repairing themselves through a normal supply of nerve energy re-charging them through the nervous system from the brain.

Vitality always works upward toward life and health so long as the nerves passing through the spine are free from any interference to their normal action. This is based upon the fundamental health law of Nature.

Disease is simply abnormal action, because of abnormal conditions from pressure on nerves in the spine. The life-force is nature acting through or in the nerves and cells. It is another name for nerve energy and does the work of carrying on life and restoring health. Chiropractic adjusts the misaligned bones of the spine back to normal position, relieves pressure from nerves which re-establishes an uninterrupted communication between brain and body and prepares the way for Nature to do her mighty work in restoring health and strength to a weak and nervous Chiropractic adds years to life and life to years.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE NAVY

Every time the army and navy are attacked President Coolidge rises to their defense. Every movement projected for a radical revision of national defense he disapproves. He does not believe the military establishments of the country are inadequate or in a seriously weakened state. The attacks upon either or both he considers largely as the propaganda of politics or jingoism.

Admiral Magruder has contributed a series of articles to a magazine in which he severely criticizes the government's naval policy. He holds it is paying out $300,000,000 annually for maintenance and operation of the navy and is getting in return only a $200,000,000 naval establishment. He has openly censured both congressional and departmental handling of the navy. President Coolidge, while showing no irritation over the criticism, takes direct issue with Admiral Magruder's main contention that the navy is over-officered and therefore wasteful. The president says he is convinced the navy should always have on hand a large number of officers for use in time of emergency. It is his opinion that an adequate supply of trained naval officers is one of the best safeguards the country can have. In this he is unquestionably right and Admiral Magruder wrong. Furthermore, the president does not wish to reduce appropriations for either the navy or the army and in that we think he is wise. Rather, he wants to make the navy more efficient, if possible, with the money now available. Some of Admiral Magruder's suggestions the president admits may have merit, and he is anxious to have them investigated by congress.

In the meantime, we may rest assured that the national defense is at a reasonably high standard, and that it is adequate for all emergencies, short of actual war. No one advocates that the country shall maintain a military establishment at war strength. Furthermore, we are pursuing a policy of peace, to which we are so strongly committed that it would require the most extreme provocation to cause us to take up the sword. The prospects of peace are more favorable than they have ever been before. American security is the best international risk that exists. It may be advisable to reorganize our military forces along the lines proposed by the American Legion, but when we have the president's assurance that the army and the navy are in a satisfactory condition, we should not be alarmed by the cries of extremists, or of politicians in congress.

PEOPLE GET WHAT THEY PAY FOR

Governor Zimmerman announces that he will call the legislature in special session in November to reconsider appropriations he was forced to veto at the regular session because they were excessive and exceeded the anticipated revenues of the state. This is expensive business for the people of Wisconsin, but it is what they deserve because of the type of men they send to Madison to make their laws. The session held this year was the longest, save one, in the history of Wisconsin, yet practically nothing of constructive value was accomplished. With the exception of reorganizing the conservation department none of the major problems of government as they have developed through experience was acted upon. Nothing was done to lower taxes or to equitably distribute tax income as between cities and counties and the state. Nothing was done to put public affairs on a business administration. Nothing was done toward economy by reducing a top-heavy overhead.

As Senator Titus puts it: "The promise had been made that the legislature would lower taxes by lessened expenditure of and through the elimination of excess baggage in the way of bureaus, commissions and other officeholding systems. Despite the fact, however, the state has more employees than ever before, the legislature appropriated more of the taxpayers' money and taxpayers are due to pay more taxes than they ever have before."

This is the kind of representation the people are wasting their good money on at Madison. If any private corporation attempted to run its affairs in that manner, it would be in the hands of a receiver in thirty days. Although the governor is forced to call it, there is no possible excuse for an extra session of the legislature. It is caused by the legislators' own incompetence and fifth rate politics.

ENFORCING THE PROHIBITION LAW

The shooting by dry agents of Charles P. Gundlach, a Maryland farmer, has awakened a protest throughout the United States against the killing of prohibition violators and suspects in the attempt to enforce the Eighteenth amendment. It is charged that more than 200 persons have been slain by dry agents. We should not be too quick to condemn the government for using strong methods to suppress rum running, stills and bootlegging when we bear in mind the fact that the illegal manufacture and sale of liquor is a gigantic national conspiracy which itself shoots to kill without an instant's hesitation. Nevertheless, it is not unlikely that in the numerous dry raids in which there has been loss of life some of the killing has been unjustified. It is not improbable that enforcement officers and detectives have exceeded their instructions or have abused their authority in an excess of zeal or reprisal.

We know nothing about the circumstances surrounding the Gundlach shooting in Maryland, nor do politicians, newspapers and others who pass judgment for or against the government. They are very much in controversy. It may be that the man who did the killing had sufficient provocation and it may be that he did not have. The final evidence should show. Complaint is made that jurisdiction in these cases is denied the states where the shootings occur, and are transferred to the federal courts, where the government's defendants have a much better chance of escaping punishment. Here again is an assertion of the accuracy of which may or may not be sustained by the facts.

Where there is open defiance of the government in the extensive manufacture or transportation and sale of illegal liquor, the government is justified in using force. It must do so or abandon all attempts to uphold the constitution and federal laws. There is always a possibility that it may go too far, and may use its power harshly and excessively, for human nature is human nature no matter where found or in what activities engaged. Probably the whole matter will be the subject of a congressional investigation, which might be a good thing. It would at least disclose whether the government is using autocratic methods in enforcing prohibition and whether or not its policies ought to be modified.

OLD MASTERS

Here is the place where Loveliness keeps house. Between the river and the wooded hills. Within a valley where the Springtime spills Her firstling wild-flowers under blossoming boughs; Where Summer sits braiding her warm, white brows With roses; and where Autumn fills Her lap with asters; and old Winter frills With crimson haw and his snowy blouse. Here you may meet with Beauty. Here she sits Gazing upon the moon, or all the day Tuning a wood-thrush flute, remote, unseen; Or, when the storm is out, 'tis she who fills From rock to rock, a form of flying spray, Shouting, beneath the leaves' tumultuous green.

DAD REHEARSES HIS STUFF

A nice little girl in Wyoming says: Is there any way of overcoming bad manners? Particularly at table, where, I think, they must hinder digestion.

Allow me to explain. I shall try to be brief. My father has atrocious table manners. And he always insists on having his food served in special ways—without pepper, with soft boiled eggs, etc. I think some of his habits at table are to blame for his occasional attacks of "stomach trouble." Here are some of the things I, my sister, and my mother hate:

At table dad (1) eats solid foods, as potatoes, parsnips, meat, with his spoon, or uses spoon in right hand and fork in left to load spoon with; (2) crams mouth full then takes huge gulp of milk or water (claiming mouth is dry); (3) crams mouth full of food then tries to talk; (4) takes big bites and chews them little, though that little is often loud; (5) reaches for bread with his fork, and spears it fiercely; (6) holds large piece of bread in his hand and digs bites out all around; (7) if dessert is fruit on table or pudding ready served, eats it before regular meal; (8) rests arms on table between elbow and wrists and bends head to take in food instead of raising his arm—father has a large nose due to this form of exercise, I think; (9) occasionally smacks lips and startles everyone; (10) often uses knife to cut such foods as fried egg or milk toast.

There! If we lived 50 miles from a railroad we should all do ditto, I suppose, but—

Dad is a graduate of high and normal schools, teacher and farmer, and respected by the neighbors who are not obliged to eat with him three times a day. I am the youngest of three children, being 15 years old, president of my class in high school and president, too, of a girls' organization. I should like to entertain my friends here on the ranch, and so would my brother and sister. We'd like to give some dinners and have them meet our parents. But unfortunately they are accustomed to good table manners. We have tried to give some subtle hints, but it is no use. We hate to come out with a direct accusation. What shall we do? (H. J.)

Answer—Get some moving pictures of dad wolfing his stuff and put him on the screen.

You should have a quiet talk with mother and leave it to her to make dad behave.

Another good remedy would be to invite some dinner guests who can beat dad to it spearing the bread or carving the lettuce, and they'll show him what a piker he is. I know it always irritates me to hear some one making such a clatter stirring his knife that I can't tell whether I am down to hardpan or just in the subsurface sugar.

Still another effective treatment is to drag dad out to a heavy function and then register great surprise at his unusual methods of stowing away papabum.

Dad is just careless, thoughtless, probably lots on his mind that never bothers you children at all. Can't you work up a kind of game with him, with score cards on wagers or something, so that every time he does something? In case of dispute let mother be referee.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Rules for Recovery from Tuberculosis
Will you be so kind as to let me know where the book "Rules for Recovery from Tuberculosis" by Dr. Lawrason Brown, can be obtained and the price? (W. L.)

Answer—The public library. The little book was published about ten or twelve years ago. I do not know whether it is now in print.

Tee Itch

I have had an intense itching between the toes for more than a year. At first there was no visible mark but recently there are pimples. Ordinary antiseptics seem to do no good. What do you advise? (Mrs. S. E. C.)

Answer—Examination by a physician. A fungus infection, a kind of ringworm, often causes such trouble. Or it may be ground itch (the lesion of the skin produced by the entrance of hookworm larvae); or it may be ordinary eczema. To experiment with it is worse than neglecting it. Let the physician determine what the trouble is and apply the right remedy.

And Our Hero is Still Warming the Bench

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

ON—

WHEN MAIL TRAVELS ABROAD

Washington, D. C. — Last year Uncle Sam spent approximately $7,000,000 to see that the letters and packages that his nephews and nieces wanted sent to foreign countries should be so sent. He had set aside a million and a half more for that service, so it may be said that he saved that amount. Also it may be said that the seven millions actually expended bought a lot of service in the way of delivering mail matter to the uttermost corners of the earth.

During the year 5,629,697 pounds of letters and postcards were dispatched by sea from the United States to foreign countries. That would figure up to well above 100,000,000 pieces of first class mail. During the same period 37,870,937 pounds of newspapers, magazines, books, and other printed matter and 26,444,850 pounds of parcel post packages were also mailed and transported abroad.

The total weight of this foreign mail matter was 69,845,484 pounds, and it represented a decrease of 2.68 per cent over the preceding year.

Of all the mail dispatched from our ports to foreign countries 56 per cent went in vessels of American registry and those vessels received 71 per cent of the compensation paid for the service. The weight of the mail carried across the Atlantic was 35,621,294 pounds and its cost for sea transportation was $3,488,384.40; 42 per cent of the weight and 62 per cent of the compensation went to American vessels.

To Central and South America and the West Indies the mail dispatched weighed 18,973,696 pounds and the cost was a bit more than a million and a half; 96 per cent of the weight and 50 per cent of the pay went to American vessels. Slightly less mail by weight and in cost was sent to places across the Pacific, but American shipping had a larger share of it—76 per cent of the weight and 82 per cent of the compensation.

The total weight of parcel post dispatched by land as well as by sea was 38,943,635 pounds, a drop of 10.7 per cent under the preceding year. The decrease was principally in the weight of parcels sent to European countries, and there was a slight increase in weight to Canada and Mexico.

WHAT TWO CENTS WILL BUY
The greatest value and the greatest service for his money that an American gets is what he gets for the stamp he puts on mail matter addressed to foreign countries. For two cents he can have a letter of one ounce or less delivered to the address in Great Britain and Ireland, Spain and the Spanish colonies, Canada, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Mexico, Central and South American countries, Western Samoa, the Windward Islands, the Dutch West Indies, Cuba, and a number of other islands, or he can have a postal card delivered almost everywhere or anywhere in the world. Also he can have four ounces or more of merchandise samples delivered to practically any destination to which he may direct them. That is what might be termed an abundant return on an infinitesimal investment. Letter rates to all other foreign countries not included in the 2-cent class are 3 cents for the first ounce or fraction thereof and 2 cents for each additional ounce or fraction thereof.

Perhaps a better understanding of what 2 cents or 3 cents buys in the way of mail transportation may be conveyed if it is pointed out that not so long ago it cost as much as $1.02 to have a letter carried from this country to Australia. Or it may be recalled that when the first general post office was established in London the rate of letter postage was 8 cents for the first 15 miles, with a rising scale of 25 cents for 300 miles, and that it was less than a hundred years ago, in 1840, to be exact, that the first postage stamp was designed by W. Mulready and first brought into use.

In the American colonies the post office first made its appearance in Massachusetts in 1639. Eighteen years later a postal service was established in Virginia under a law which required ed every planter to provide a messenger to convey the dispatches, as they arrived, to the next plantation, and so on, on pain of forfeiting a hoghead of tobacco for default.

BOSTON TO NEW YORK MAIL

In 1873 the government of New York established a weekly mail service between New York and Boston and one of the main highway routes between the two cities is still known as the Boston Post Road. In 1863 William Penn set up a post office in Philadelphia, with weekly mails to places about the city and longer routes to the larger towns of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The Crown purchased the good will of the American post in 1707 and from that time until the year prior to the Revolutionary War the General Post Office in London controlled the service in America. In 1711 there was a weekly service between Boston and Maine and fortnightly service between Boston and New York, and in 1717 the mail was carried weekly between New York and Williamsburg, Va. Ten years later there was a service every two weeks between Philadelphia and Annapolis.

The Continental Congress at its second session in July, 1775, decided to have a postal system and Benjamin Franklin was placed at its head with a salary of $1,000 a year. Franklin shortly thereafter was transferred to the diplomatic field and his son-in-law, Richard Bache, was appointed to succeed him. In 1782 the Colonial Congress authorized the postmaster general to establish a line of posts between New Hampshire and Georgia.

The first law for the proper management of the postal service was enacted in 1794 and five years later the postal laws were revised one of the interesting changes being that flagging was substituted for the death penalty for robbing the mails. During Madison's administration postage on letters was fixed at from 2 to 25 cents. Sunday delivery at post offices was instituted despite vigorous protests from various religious bodies, and, in 1813, mails were first carried by steamboat from one post town to another.

Postage stamps were issued by local postmasters in this country shortly after they had been introduced in England and in 1847 the Government introduced stamps of the 5 and 10 cent denominations, bearing respectively, the likenesses of Franklin and Washington.

Stamped envelopes made their appearance in 1853, free delivery was instituted under Lincoln in 1863 in cities of 50,000 population and more, the postal card was introduced in 1873, and a year later came the international Postal Union which has since made it possible to send letters from any place in the world to any other place at a postage of from 2 to 5 cents.

Within the past ten days an international conference has been held at The Hague on the development of air mail service which is to add the maximum of speed to what the cash customers get for a minimum cost when they want to send a letter from here to anywhere.

OLD SETTLERS TO CONVENE
Editor Post-Crescent—It is very noticeable that the old settlers of the county are diminishing very rapidly, and to show our appreciation of those that are yet on the list as survivors, a gathering will take place at the Northern Hotel, City of Appleton, on Thursday, October 12th, wherein they may meet to exchange greetings, reminiscences, adventures,

A NEW YORKER IN PARIS

By Gilbert Swan

A broad the S. S. Paris, Somewhere at Sea—More noted from the log of a seagoing Gothamite.

The "lady-across-the-table" is what Parisians and Americans alike refer to as "the gigolos' delight." Already she is talking of how divinely these paid partners of the Paris cafes dance. . . . Her age is uncertain, to say the least. . . . Her face shows signs of at least one lifting and of many trips to beauty parlors, most of which seem to have been in vain. . . . She tries so terribly hard to be so terribly young and gay, except on those occasions when she makes reference to "before my dear husband died." . . . The rings, bracelets and necklaces inform you at once that "when the dear husband died" her financial troubles were over. . . . She talks blantly and endlessly of past travels over the Atlantic. . . . "But it is Paris I love." . . . One can always have a dancing partner there. . . . For a few francs you can buy the best gigolos. . . . And they all dance so well. . . . I spend a great part of my money just buying dances."

Another of our "dancing grandmas" setting out to be giddy. . . . They tell me that there is one on every boat.

Which reminds me—the story has recently come from Paris of an enormously rich American society woman of fading years who has bought up most of the gigolos of the best dance resorts. . . . It was noticed that when she danced she wore long black gloves, although they were not in fashion. . . . She explained that she couldn't have these dancing partners touching her. . . . They were all right to dance with. . . . But . . . well, you know how it is.

And there's the little French girl who has 90 per cent of the ship's male population in her wake. . . . Far more beautiful American girls sit about unscouted, watching with uncomprehending eyes. . . . At the table where the French-girl sits the crowd ebbs and flows. . . . She can handle one or ten with equal dexterity. . . . And about her is that inimitable pert vivacity which cannot be imitated. . . . The beautifully chiseled girl from New England, for all the world like something carved from marble and put into clothing sits by watching in fascinated attention. . . . Here across a few tables one can study the extremes of feminine method.

And since this is shipboard, and diversion is the aim, made-moiselle is mistress of the bar, the dance floor and the tearoom. . . . As she sits past the "girl-of-marble" they exchange uncomprehending glances. . . . Neither pretends to understand the other. . . . One can sense that the "mapple girl" is thinking, "How much shall I do it?" While the French girl is saying to herself: "With her beauty why does she not have all the men? Why doesn't she throw out and become feminine?"

And there's the seagoing gold fish. . . . From his glassed-in cage just over the children's sandpile he can mistfully look out upon the endless strange ways of humans who, not content with caging themselves, take a fish with them to sea, adding to his bitterness by making him look out upon water in which he can never dwell.

It's strange how thrilling the simplest incident becomes once one has cut loose from the hectic highways. . . . Last evening, about four bells, we sighted a school of porpoises. . . . Those who had witnessed this sight became the bar-room Homers, carefully spinning their stories to the unfortunate who had been napping.

I saw a famous captain of industry rush from his stateroom as the news traveled about with a vaudeville team, descended to give him an eye-witness account.

Q. How long and wide is the Pacific Ocean? P. W.

A. The Hydrographic Office says that the Pacific Ocean is approximately 8100 nautical miles in length. Its greatest width is over 6,000 nautical miles.

Q. What kind of water is found at Carlsbad? M. A. L.

A. The warm springs of Carlsbad belong to the class of alkaline-saline waters and have all the same chemical composition, varying only in degree of temperature. The chemical composition of the Sprudel (the oldest, the best known and most copious springs there) taken to a thousand parts of water is: 2.405 sulphate of soda, 1.298 bicarbonate of soda, 0.186 sulphur of potash, 0.166 bicarbonate of magnesia, 0.012 bicarbonate of lithium, and 0.966 carbonic acid gas. They contain also traces of arsenic, antimony, selenium, rubidium, and organic substances. The water is colorless, odorless, with a slightly acidulated and salt taste. The waters are used both for drinking and bathing.

Demand for Big Machines Is Growing, Manufacturing Concerns Report

Chicago — The west has gone east this year in harvesting methods. The combined harvest-thresher, so well known on the great farm of the west, now is being demanded by farmers in such volume that manufacturers could not begin to take care of orders and are having to "ration" sales in states east of the Mississippi river, according to the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers.

More than 15,000 of these big machines that cut and thresh the standing grain at one operation have been sold. Illinois has taken over 200, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and several other states have bought all they could get.

"It is the second romance of the reaper," say agricultural college economists and members of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. Everywhere post-war economies have driven the farmer to desperate cost-cutting and the combine, with a potential saving of three high-priced men on every job of small grain harvesting it does, cuts from 17 to 20 cents off the cost of a bushel of wheat, with other grains and seed crops in proportion.

CUTS LABOR COST
Probably 45,000 to 50,000 men were eliminated from the harvest fields this year by the addition of these new machines, while at least 135,000 less are needed than before the combine came on the scene. Farm women are becoming a big factor in the buying of these new machines, as they are emancipated from harvest cooking, a hot, dreary job.

Soybean harvesting problems first brought the new machines into Illinois four years ago. Then sweet clover, red clover, wheat, oats, rye, barley, alfalfa, corn, peas, speltz and other crops were successfully harvested by adjusting reels, gears and screens for each crop.

Agricultural engineers from eight universities have approved its work after checking up on machines in the hands of their farmers last year and using them on the college station crops for careful study on costs, loss of grain, condition of seed and adaptability of machines.

OCONTO FALLS SCHOOLS PLAN ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Oconto Falls—Friday, Oct. 28, has been selected as achievement day for the pupils of the Smith-Hughes department of the local high school. The program will include in the morning a grain and livestock judging contest by pupils of rural schools and contests in games and athletic exercises. In the afternoon a farmers' institute will be held in which lectures and subjects will be illustrated. Prof. George Briggs of the college of agriculture, and Louis J. Samsan, state supervisor of agricultural education, will be the principal speakers. J. N. Kavanaugh, agricultural agent of Brown-co, J. I. Etheridge, Oconto-co agent, and Professor Briggs are booked as judges of exhibits. The evening will be given over to the awarding of gifts, stunts and various other entertainment. The big feature of the day will be the exhibits of the rural school boys and girls.

INDIAN VEGETABLES
The American Indian left his eight vegetables which now make up the greater part of the entire American crop, despite the fact that we have learned to cultivate 24 foreign crops in addition.

FIFTH TO TAXES
Director C. Kendall of the University of New Hampshire Extension Service estimates that 20 per cent of the farmers' labor incomes in the last eight years went to local property taxes.

ROADSIDE CO-OPS
Farm women of Lucas county, Ohio have established roadside markets on the co-operative basis. The stands are uniformly designed and are run under strict organization principles.

BORER SPREADS
Despite the intensive campaign against the corn borer this year, Ohio reports a further spread of this pest over 55 counties, as against 42 last year. Indiana also reports its spread over 14 counties as against eight last year.

Federal protection has resulted in an increase of migratory birds in this country.

Many Farmers Neglect Salt Rations To Cattle

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Oconto—One of the essential daily requirements of human beings and animals is salt in some form. Human beings get their daily ration without effort but animals in the past have suffered from a lack of it. Deer travel long distances and risk their lives, perhaps knowingly, to get a taste of salt near human habitations. In the immediate past, farm animals were "salted" on Sundays, once or twice a month or at greater intervals and suffered the other days of the year from a continuous famine. Some farmers now place large cubes of salt in the pastures or yards of cattle, but on account of the time required by an animal to dissolve the amount of salt from the cube and the number of animals, no animal gets as much salt as its system and well-being requires. Other farmers serve individual rations of salt daily.

Dairy cows and beef cattle require 25 pounds of salt each, in a year, horses 45 pounds, sheep 11 pounds,

Here And There Among The Farmers--

J. N. Kavanaugh, agricultural agent of Brown-co, in company with O. H. Zeasman, drainage department of the college of agriculture, were surveying and laying tile on the farm of John Steckert, near De Pere Monday, and are expecting to finish their part of the project on Tuesday.

Mr. Kavanaugh is to conduct several chicken culling demonstrations in Brown-co next week. The first of these demonstrations will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon on Tuesday, Oct. 4, on the farm of Roy Streckenbach, Pittsfield; the second at 8 o'clock in the evening in Cosmopolitan hall, New Franken; the third at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, on the farm of James Dillon, Rockland; the fourth at 1 o'clock in the afternoon in the farm of A. J. Cornelissen, De Pere; sixth, Thursday morning on farm of P. Baeten, West De Pere; sixth, Thursday morning at Askeaton, the farm not yet decided upon; and the seventh at 1:30 Thursday on the farm of Reynold Abrams, Pine Grove.

E. K. Eklund, superintendent of the state reformatory at Green Bay, returned Sunday from La Crosse where he went in company with the state reformatory orchestra. The orchestra was on the program of the Interstate fair. It was a novelty to the people in the western part of the state and did exceptionally well. Mr. Eklund intends to send the orchestra to the Hickory Grove sanitarium some evening this week to entertain the patients.

According to C. P. Sampson, Oconto Falls, manager of the Falls Canning company, canning beans are only a third of the usual crop and corn one-fourth, this season. The company will finish the canning of corn very soon. The acreage of canning beans is small, but the quality and yield are fairly good. The yield of corn and beans would have been much better if the crops had not been nipped by the early frost. But despite the short yield, the company has canned enough beans and corn to fill its new two story warehouse, 50 by 50 feet, and has employed 110 people, mostly women, to do the work. "The market is very good," said Mr. Sampson, "on all commodities packed by the local plant."

The rains on Sunday and Monday made the newly graded highways connecting Gillett with Oconto Falls very slippery, and forced farmers to discontinue cutting corn and doing other field work. Pools of water were standing in the low spots on the highways Monday.

The enrollment of the Triangle School, District No. 2, Grand Chute, this fall, is 26 pupils and the teacher is Miss M. C. Sams. In the library are 460 books, a number of supplementary readers and Compton's Encyclopedia in 10 volumes. The school is well equipped with serviceable maps and charts. Under the direction of P. T. A., the school building is made the center of the community activity of the district. Charles Mantel is the president of the association which meets the last Friday of each month. The first meeting of this school year will be held the last Friday in October.

Miss Eleanor Wiesler is teaching her second year in the Sunny View school, District No. 2, Greenville. Nineteen pupils are now in attendance. The library contains 325 books, several sets of supplementary readers, the Human Interest Library of four volumes, historical and geographical charts and a globe. Last vacation, the floors were oiled, the furniture varnished and the surrounding put in ship-shape for the opening of school. The district is planning to install indoor toilets and a new furnace in the near future. A young people's club will soon be formed in the district for literary and entertainment and general improvement purposes. The first meeting for organization purposes was held last Tuesday. The organization will be completed at another meeting to be held soon. The club is planning to put on a play, the last part of October, probably at the Stevensville auditorium. The school building has always been used as a community center.

Farm land values are coming down to pre-war level, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. It is now 19 per cent above that. Last year it was 24 per cent above. The peak was reached in 1920, when farm values were as high as 163 per cent those of pre-war days.

RAIN DELAYS SILO FILLING ON STATE REFORMATORY FARM

50 Acres of Corn Left Standing to Mature to Fullest Point Possible

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer
Green Bay—No silo-filling has been done on the state reformatory farm, although 30 acres of a total of 100 acres were cut before the rain. As the corn was not injured by the late frost, the management preferred to let it stand as long as possible to mature fully. Fifty acres of corn that is denied will be left standing for a while and later it will be cut, shocked and hauled. The corn cut for silage and that yet to be cut for that purpose will make excellent feed.

Five acres of carrots have been harvested and delivered to a canning plant and ten acres of table beets are being harvested and hauled to the same plant. Eight acres of early potatoes were a first class crop but 35 acres of late potatoes, still in the ground and growing, are not as good as the early field. Three acres of tomatoes that escaped the frost are going well. The best that can be said of four acres of onions on the farm is that the crop is only fair. The dry weather at the growing time gave the onions a setback. Ten acres of cabbage and 23 acres of sugar beets look very thrifty but may yield as well as they look.

OTHER YIELDS

This season, the state reformatory farm produced 5,781 bushels of small grain of which total 1,651 bushels were barley and the balance oats, and 250 tons of mixed clover and timothy hay.

The alfalfa on 23 acres of new seedling shows a good stand is now three high. A twenty-five acre field of rye looks very promising.

One hundred eighty acres have been turned over this fall and equal number of acres are yet to be plowed after the crops are removed.

On the farm at the present time is a herd of 53 purebred Holstein cattle, 25 steers, 577 hogs, 600 pullets and old hens, 40 geese and 50 ducks.

FARM EXTREMES

An acre of garden peas will produce seed for three acres of the canning crop. An acre of cabbage seed will provide seed for 2500 acres of new planting.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has opened a new regional office at Portland, Ore., to serve as a contact station with the public and private marketing and research agencies of the Pacific northwest.

William A. Schoenfeld, formerly assistant chief of the bureau, is in charge of the new office.

The average dairy cow in this country, it is estimated, produced annually about 4500 pounds of milk containing about 180 pounds of butterfat.

Among tested cows, however, average yields run up to 7200 pounds of milk and 282 pounds of butterfat.

FEDERAL SCIENTIST CREATES EARLY RED APPLE BY CROSSING

All Other Early Varieties Up to Present Are of Yellow Color

Washington—The apple-eating public, it seems, shows a marked preference for red apples.

For many years, however, the sons of Adam have had nothing but yellow apples in the early summer. There was no such article as an early apple with a red complexion until very recently.

Sympathetic horticulturists have long dreamed of developing a red apple that would be ready for the market as early as the earliest yellow variety—Yellow Transparent. Many have tried, but it remained for C. P. Close of the federal department of agriculture to make the red apple dream come true.

After a dozen years spent in the tedious hand work of carrying the pollen from one flower to another, in which he used the earliest yellow varieties known and the earliest available reds for cross-breeding, Close now has numerous seedlings of these crosses coming into fruit at the department farm—as many as 150 prospective new varieties each year.

From the first seedlings that fruited in 1921 he has selected a number of red varieties that more than come up to his expectations. The earliest one fruits about two weeks earlier than Yellow Transparent. It is of better eating quality, and striking in appearance. Close's work has given the apple eaters not only the long-hoped-for early red summer apple, but three others are ahead of or with Yellow Transparent in season, and others following to furnish red apples through the entire summer.

The selected seedlings are being further tested at the experiment stations of Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Missouri, Indiana, Pennsylvania and South Dakota.

FAMED PABST HERD WILL BE AUCTIONED

Buyers from Many States and Parts of Canada Expected at Sale

An event that promises to surpass in interest any other in livestock circles in recent years, is the dispersal of Gustave Pabst's famous Holsteiner herd of Holstein cattle. The entire herd (115 head) will be sold at auction on Oct. 3 and 4 at Hollyhook farm near Oconomowoc.

During the past 12 years Mr. Pabst has built up what is conceded to be one of the most remarkable herds of Holstein cattle ever assembled; members of which have carried off signal honors in both the show ring and the production tests. The entire herd of milking females have official records that average more than 910 pounds butter in year test; a comparison of this figure with the average production of all cows in America, as shown by the U. S. Department of Agriculture survey (less than 200 pounds of butter), makes the achievement of this herd all the more remarkable.

Many high record cows and daughters of high record cows will be offered in the sale; 17 of the matrons having records from 1,000 to 1,327 pounds of butter in year test. More than twenty heifers and a dozen bulls from these high record cows are included.

Wisconsin Pride 2d is the world's champion milk producer and United States champion butter producer as a three-year-old. She gave 1,327 pounds of butter in year test.

May Pieterse Homestead Ormsby is a daughter of the former American champion butter producer, May Walker Ormsby Homestead. She was "All-America" two-year-old of the 1924 show circuit and won first at the national dairy show. She is a sister of the present United States champion with 1,607 pounds of butter.

Hollyhook Piebe Fobes, Grand champion of the National Dairy Show and "All-American" four-year-old of 1926, is the "Leading Lady" of the Hollyhook herd. She is now engaged in making a sensational record in year test and is a daughter of the Hollyhook herd-sire, Sir Bess Ormsby Fobes. She will be held, together with her daughter and more than fifty of her sisters.

Livestock authorities and economists view the dispersal of the herd as a boon to those sections of the country that secure the high producing blood of this famous herd, to fuse with their own bloodlines in building more profitable herds. Since the announcement of the sale a large number of breeders and dairymen have visited the farm to inspect the cattle.

Melin-Peterson Company, of Minneapolis, Minn., managers of the sale, report that interest in the sale is widespread; inquiries for catalogue of the event having been received from thirty-five states and most of the Canadian Provinces.

WAUPACA-CO YOUTH IS GRANTED PATENT

Hugo Fandry Invents Mechanical Hitch to Be Used With Tractor

Clintonville—Hugo Fandry, a young native of this community, the son of Charles Fandry of the town of Larrabee, a Waupaca-co pioneer living four miles north of Clintonville, is the owner of a clever mechanical hitch for a tractor, which he has patented and now is having manufactured for the market.

This young man, while working with a tractor on the farm, saw the need of an adjustable hitch by means of which he could control the path of a plow behind a tractor on side hills, close to fences and trees and after trying several draw bars now on the market and finding them inadequate to his need invented one of his own which he says will do the work demanded.

Young Mr. Fandry is possessed of considerable mechanical genius, and has built his new device so that one can guide a plow, drag, disc, or any other implement in that line, with convenience and ease from the tractor seat by means of a small crank.

Many times changes in the draw bar are required while plowing to get around a tree or fence, and this change can be made with Fandry's patent without getting off the seat or stopping the tractor. It is designed and made of few parts, all of which are strong and sturdy and will resist heavy labor.

Mr. Fandry is at present having the adjustable draw made at the Patterson Manufacturing plant. Before it was offered to the market the device was given many different tests to prove its value and it is said to have several advantages over any similar attachment now on the market.

BIG POTATO EATERS
Germans eat an average of seven bushels of potatoes per person a year. The average in America is less than three bushels, and that allows for about one bushel for culls, spoilage and shrinkage.

ber of breeders and dairymen have visited the farm to inspect the cattle.

RULE FOREIGN PARCEL POST MUST BE SEALED

Parcel post packages to Germany, Switzerland or Venezuela must be sealed with wax or lead seals or by other methods which will pass postal inspection according to information received at the local post office. Such packages, however, are subject to general regulations of the department as to contents and the shipping of articles which are non-flammable.

Warning has also been received here that the tendency among persons to send coins and currency to Mexico still persists in some sections. This practice is against the rules of the postal department except in the case of gold coins. However, there is always an element of chance in mailing coins and the department cannot be held responsible if the money is lost. Recent bulletins received here also contain the information that money orders sent to Bulgaria must be limited to not more than $50. Orders for more than that amount should be refused.

TOWNSADVANCEMENT CLUB
MOVES TO REOPEN
NORTHSIDE HOTEL

Club Officers Instructed to Open Negotiations With Building Owner

Kaukauna—Just fourteen members were present at the first meeting of the Kaukauna Advancement association in the council chambers of the municipal building on Wednesday evening. Officers of the club believed the small attendance was due to the fact that many of the members did not know about the meeting which was announced just a few hours previous.

The total paid up membership was announced as $7.

The north side hotel question came up for discussion and a motion was made that President Ben Prugh and Secretary Lester Brenzel act in touch with the present owner of the hotel, E. Harriman of Chicago, and see what arrangements can be made for opening it. Mr. Harriman was in the city a week ago and expressed a desire to appear before a local club to see what could be done about opening the hotel. The hotel was closed by a court order nearly a year ago and has remained unoccupied since that time. Many members of the club said that that was the biggest "black eye" the north side ever had to have the hotel closed. Joseph Jansen said it did not look well for the city and that steps should be taken at once to open it.

HANK HOLDS MORTGAGE

C. E. Raucht, cashier of the First National bank which foreclosed a mortgage on the property said that "last winter a meeting of the north side businessmen was called at which time an effort was made to open the hotel. Many of those present seemed to have the opinion that the bank was trying to unload something and as a result nothing ever came of the meeting. It had been hoped at that time that some of the businessmen would buy the furniture in the hotel and leave it there and then the hotel could be operated again."

"The bank is not worried about its position in connection with the hotel," he is well secured. The bank would be willing to open it today and would cooperate in doing it. And it could be opened under a receivership. The directors regret that the hotel has been closed as long as it has been but it seemed to be the feeling last winter that someone was attempting to put something over and of course I got the blame. That's the last thing I want to do. I don't want to be guilty of trying to put anything over and consequently I haven't said much about the hotel lately for fear I would be charged with just that thing. At the time the hotel was closed the furniture could have been bought for $7,500 although it was worth $15,000. The businessmen passed up this opportunity and the very next day the townspeople rushed to pick up the furniture. Most of the kitchen equipment remains as well as the rugs and draperies. The other furnishings could be purchased to completely outfit both floors of 42 rooms for $5,000. The present equipment would be security enough for the new expenditure of money. Now the bank has foreclosed its mortgage and it can only wait until something is done. The citizens of the city can open the hotel at once and the bank will be glad to cooperate. At first it would not be necessary to furnish both floors. There is a decided shortage of boarding houses in the city at present. Twenty-one rooms would provide an excellent service for a hotel in a city of this size."

The club will take immediate action to bring about the opening of the hotel.

Members of the club discussed the proposed building of a parkway on the east end of Wisconsin-ave, between Lawrence and Canal-st. This parkway has been recommended by the building and grounds committee of the county board.

John Nielsen, first ward supervisor, said sidewalks on the street are twelve feet wide, too wide for the traffic that passes over them. "The county favors cutting them down to eight feet," the supervisor said, "and widening the road to make a boulevard out of it." Mr. Raucht told the association that the council had discussed this matter three years ago.

Hugh G. Corbett of Appleton will be invited to appear before the local association at its next regular meeting to be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 25. A dinner will be served. The association adjourned subject to the call of the president.

How To Reduce
Varicose Veins

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful medicine and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old varicose veins and bunches are often completely cured in a few days.

GIANTS STILL CLING TO HOPE FOR TIE IN NATIONAL LOOP

M'Graw Clan Remains In Chase By 10-Inning Win Over Battling Phillies

Pittsburgh and St. Louis, Leaders of Giants, Idle as New York Triumphs

Clinging to their almost negligible hope of setting a tie for first place in the National League, standing the New York Giants were in a slightly better attacking position Thursday the result of a 5-4 victory in ten innings over Philadelphia while the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals were idle Wednesday. Still two full games in the lead, Pittsburgh needs only one more of the three games scheduled with Cincinnati to insure at least a tie.

WIN CLOSE BATTLE
New York trailed Philadelphia up until the eighth inning Wednesday when a two run rally tied the score. The Giants stepped out in front in the ninth by putting over a run but Philadelphia knotted the count again in the home half. In the tenth Hornsby bunted safely, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Devermore.

Washington closed its season series with the Boston Red Sox by taking both ends of a double header. Hadley pitched the Senators to a 2-1 victory to start the bargain attraction. Boston drove Fred Marberry from the box in the second game but Garland Braxton stepped in and held them scoreless from the fifth on. Washington winning, 6-1.

Other American league teams were idle.

BLUES SCRIMMAGE IN SPITE OF RAIN

Strong Yearlings Halt Varsity as Men Flounder Around in Mud

They used duck boats and rubber boots out at Whitings field Wednesday evening but they paddled and scrimmaged until nearly 6 o'clock. And if the weatherman forecasts rains for Saturday you can bet our bottom dollar that the Lawrence college football team will be right at home with the elements. Work, more work and probably more Thursday night was what Coach Catlin dished out to the varsity and the 12 or 14 yearlings who so valiantly floundered around in the mud to stop the first squad backs dead in their tracks. Coach Bohler sent his charges through a long drill in preparation for the opening game of the season against North Central here Saturday.

The eligibility of Capt. Lawrence Ethier and Germann has buoyed Beloit's hopes for a winning team. Bohler announced that he will start Westenberg and Hobart at ends; Rasinsky and Ethier, tackles; Fessler and Neumann, guards; Germann, center; Lawrence, quarter; Wittenberg, Brodin and Bottino, halves and Laabs, fullback, Saturday.

BOBBY JONES RETURNS TO STUDIES AT EMORY

Atlanta, Ga.—(P)—Bobby Jones, Atlanta Golfer has entered his second year of law school at Emory university here. After Bobby finished the freshman course at Emory in June in the runner up position, rumors were current that he might scratch his entry this fall to complete his study in his father's law office here.

Murray Expects Extra Tough Fight From Blue

Milwaukee—As the last preliminary before the Oct. 8 battle with the Army at West Point, the Marquette university Golden Avalanche football machine will meet Lawrence college of Appleton in the Marquette stadium, Saturday afternoon.

Although most of the Marquette workouts recently have pointed the Blue and Gold performers for the game with the Cadets, this week's clash with Coach Mark Catlin's legion is not being overlooked. Marquette opened the season last year at Lawrence, and just squeaked out a 10 to 5 victory, when Rupert O'Keefe, the local all-star quarterback, returned a punt 90 yards for a touch down.

The Lawrence game of 1921 was one of the hardest fought in the entire schedule, and the Bluebirds did not proper to be caught napping this fall. Coach Catlin reports his team this fall will not be as strong as usual, but the upstarts will be primed for the Marquette game and will turn loose everything they have in an effort to down the Golden Avalanche.

STATE RECOGNIZES LOCAL BOXING CLUB

13 Badger Cities Have Recognized Mitt Clubs for 1927-28 Season

Milwaukee — (P) — The magnetic thud of padded gloves will resound in fourteen or more boxing halls this winter, heralding the indoor pugilistic season in Wisconsin.

Through the haze of cigar smoke and flood lights, thousands of Badger fans will look ringward in cities from Green Bay to La Crosse and from Milwaukee to Eau Claire.

Snow will soon drop on the outdoor rings where followers of the manly art found recreation throughout summer months, and the bleak, deserted seats will commemorate the passing of another season.

Boxing cards, bringing together fighters from various parts of the country and spiced with bouts featuring home-town talent, are being arranged in the fourteen centers in the state which are organized under the supervision of the State Athletic Commission.

The list of recognized boxing clubs, reported by Walter H. Linger, Milwaukee, secretary of the commission, includes organizations at Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Appleton, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, La Crosse, Richland Center, Madison, Monroe, Rice Lake and Janesville.

In practically all of the cities, promoters are busy with the details of winter fight cards while some have bouts scheduled for this weekend.

At Oshkosh, the American Legion will pry the lid off the indoor season with four matches Friday night. Monday night Milwaukee fans, having had a rather scanty diet of fights for the last few months, will witness an encounter between Ben Bonillas, Mexican featherweight and Joey Klein, a Milwaukee favorite. The first treat for Janesville fans during the fall will come Oct. 24 when four bouts totalling 28 rounds of milling will be staged.

Boxing has been gaining steadily in popularity in the southern part of the state and bouts at Janesville have been well attended, many fans journeying from Madison and surrounding cities for the fights.

Martin Burke, New Orleans light heavyweight, will battle an opponent yet to be selected at Fond du Lac's official house warming Oct. 7. Burke was a sparring partner for Jack Dempsey during the latter's training for his attempted comeback. It is understood that Nig Boy Peterson, who fought a preliminary at the Dempsey-Tunney fight, will be asked to sign for the Burke match.

One of the new members of the roll of boxing clubs is Monroe, where it is planned to stage both boxing and wrestling exhibitions during the winter months.

Other cities will fall in line as the early winter months come around. Interest aroused throughout the state as a result of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, focusing the attention of the sport world on the boxing game, is expected to result in one of the greatest seasons in Wisconsin, believe fight promoters.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT 1ST CARD GAME

Cornell College Men Arrive in Madison Friday to Practice Plays

Madison—With the initial appearance of the Wisconsin football team under Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite's direction, a record crowd for an opener is expected here at Camp Randall Saturday when the Badgers take the field against Cornell college of Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

Iowa collegians will arrive here Friday, and will adapt themselves to the Cardinal stadium and review plays in the afternoon.

The fact that this is Wisconsin's only home engagement before the major clash with Michigan two weeks later, is added cause for anticipating an unprecedented crowd for a season opener. There will be an open sale of tickets, with no reservations provided for.

From the standpoint of Coach Thistlethwaite the Cornell tilt will be an experiment of the relative value of his pupils in their various positions. The Badger mentor is concerned mainly with the performance of his men, and not with the outcome of the 1927 inaugural clash.

On the heels of the Cornell game Coach Thistlethwaite must prepare himself for a strong fight with Kansas a week later, on foreign territory, and then organize a troupe that will ward off the powerful onslaught that the Wolverines will unquestionably provide here on October 15.

Inclement weather this week has in no way daunted the character of the practice on Camp Randall, where a half-hundred men are learning the strategy they will employ against Capt. Leland Wilson, all-western selection, and his fighting gang from Cornell.

Although defeated by the Cardinals last season, 25 to 0, Cornell has held one of the most feared seats in the Midwest Collegiate conference. For two consecutive years they won the title, falling to third in 1925 due to lack of material.

Boy Scouts throughout the state and Wisconsin high school football teams will be guests of the Athletic Department at the Cornell tilt.

HOLD JOB TOGETHER

CLEM HIGGINS AND RUFUS KING. INSET.

Texas in one of the few colleges in the country this year that will have co-captains for its football team. Rufus King, a back, and Clem "Ox" Higgins, a lineman, each received the same number of votes last year when a captain was being chosen, and because they were outstanding stars, their teammates decided to honor 'em both.

Michigan has had few forward pass stars other than Benny Friedman and Stanley Wells of the 1910 team.

Baltimore, Md. — Buster Brown, Baltimore, won from Joey Goodman, N. Y., (10).

"PREXY" TO SPEAK TO CARD GRIDMEN

Glenn Frank Gives Opening "Pep" Talk to Gridders in Locker Room

Madison—As a pre-season climax and timely preface to the opening football game here Saturday, President Glenn Frank will come down from his stately office in historic Dascom Hall Friday afternoon to the steamy locker rooms at Camp Randall Stadium to speak a brief word to the men who will this year represent the University of Wisconsin on the gridiron.

Prexy will make it clear to Coach Thistlethwaite's squad members that they are honored in being selected to carry the Cardinal of Wisconsin into the Western Conference football race this fall. He will tell these boys what is expected of them. He will charge them to realize their responsibility and give all they have for Wisconsin.

The address by Dr. Frank is a pre-season climax in that the men ordered to be present are the remnants of a group of 95 willing Badgers who originally reported to Glenn Thistlethwaite. Forty of them have been dropped, not because they were lacking in spirit or heart, but because they fell a trifle short in physique or ability.

The President's charge to the Badger gridgers is most timely in that at its close Thistlethwaite will run his troupes onto the sod of the Stadium field for the first time this season. All of the rehearsals have been held on the practice gridirons, and it is not until the squad has been finally selected for the first encounter that they are permitted to trample the turf where the many Cardinal football warriors have fought.

HAWKEYE TEAM TAKES SHAPE FOR 1ST GAME

Iowa City, Ia.—The labor of building a staunch forward wall and yard-eating offense proceeds steadily at the University of Iowa as the game is less than a week away. Against a strong little Monmouth college eleven, the Hawkeye coaches will send their football machine Oct. 1, week later, the team from Ohio State will open the Big Ten season on Iowa field.

Recent scrimmages have shown the men to be in good September form. The line is developing cohesion, reinforced by such athletes as Captain Nelson, the New York Sun's All-American tackle; Chatterton, a 240-pound experienced guard; Brown, accurate passing center; and Roberts, a blazing sophomore guard.

What the Hawkeyes will offer the flanks is yet uncertain. A meritorious letter man; Cooley, punting sophomore; Grim, a converted halfback and Beers, a 175-pounder with catlike agility who was formerly a Big Ten wrestling champion.

The backs are showing increasing ability to add those precious yards from scrimmage. Sadler and Myer, sophomores, have been teaming with Culver and O'Neal, seniors. With Culver the crack sprinter and hurdler, a Myers, a 190-pounder, as hurler, neat passing combination is in the making, it appears.

Had Little Opposition
New Orleans furnished Wichita Falls with little opposition in the annual Dixie series as the Texans won four straight games.

"Martin Johnson is right —Luckies give the greatest enjoyment"

Said Elmer Wood to Frank Stone while on a hunting trip in the Canadian Rockies.

Martin Johnson, Famous African Explorer, writes:

"While trailing big game in Africa, I have never been without my Lucky Strike Cigarette. Once on the Abyssinian border my shipment of them from America missed us, and I was miserable until the natives followed our tracks across the Kaisout desert to Nairobi with my precious cargo of Luckies. After 4 years of smoking Luckies in wildest Africa, I find my voice in perfect condition for my lecture tour in America."

Martin Johnson

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

CHICAGO BEARS TO PRESENT ALL-STAR LINEUP FOR BAYMEN

Chuck Cassell, Tillie Voss, Ernie Vick, 3 Milwaukeeans New Help to Bears

Chicago — The Chicago Bears will leave here Saturday night for Green Bay where on Sunday they will stage a battle for first place in the National Football league with their bitter grid-iron rivals, the Packers.

The Halas-Sternamen combination is composed of veterans. Aside from Chuck Cassell of Illinois, there isn't a player who hasn't seen plenty of pro football. Cassell is the only player from the college graduates of 1926.

SEVERAL NEW FACES — However, there are a number of new faces on the squad. Tillie Voss, who in his day, was one of the greatest ends in the country, has been purchased from New York. Ernie Vick, and All-American center from Michigan, was secured from the Detroit Panthers when the Motor City club went on the financial rocks. Fullback Roy White has returned to the Bruins after a year in the defunct Grange league while the Milwaukee Badgers have contributed Ashmore, Clem Neacy and Johnny Bryan to the Chicagoans.

Jole Sternamen is back with the Bears again. He ran his own club in the Grange loop last fall. This stocky backfielder was scheduled to take a part interest in the Chicago Cardinals with the Chris O'Brien but at the last minute, he turned the deal down and cash his lot with Brother Dutch and George Halas.

ALL STARS ARE BACK — All of the Bears stars of other years are back in teal again. Coach Knop, the plugging fullback, was induced to come out of retirement. "Brute" Traffon is again very much in evidence along with Dave Henley, All-American pro tackle for three years; Don Murry, who specializes in blocking kicks and the talkative Bill Fleckenstein.

As usual, Paddy Driscoll is going good. This veteran seems to grow younger every season. In last Sunday's game against the Cardinals, Driscoll was just about the Bruins' show as he scored all the points, making a field goal and a touchdown. For six years, the super Paddy has always been a jinx to the Packers and the powers that be in the ranks of the Bears feel confident that he is plenty good enough to be the "ace in the hole" for another year against the fast going Badger state champions.

PRaises BAY ELEVEN — "Green Bay has one of the greatest teams in the country," said George Halas, co-manager of the Bears, when asked about the Wisconsin invasion this weekend. "Those Packers have always been a tough nut for us to crack and several times we have been bumped off by Lambeau and his crew. "This year the Packers look stronger than ever. They beat Dayton, who in turn whipped the Philadelphia Yellowjackets, last year's champions. Benny Friedman's club, the Cleveland Bulldogs also took a licking at the hands of Green Bay. If we come through with a victory, Sunday, I don't think there is a club in the league that will block our path to the 1927 title. It is going to be a real battle but I have got a hunch that we will win."

The official "dope" on the Bears' squad of 24 players is as follows:

COCHRAN DEFENDS CUP TITLE FROM FOREIGNER

Chicago — (P) — Another former world's champion will attempt a come back when Welker Cochran of Hollywood, Calif., defends his 18.2 balk line billiard title against Eric Hageniacher of Germany in a 1600 point match starting Thursday night.

The match will be played in three blocks of 500 points each, ending Saturday night.

Cochran won the championship in the world's tournament at Washington, D. C., last spring.

CLAUDE BOWLBY OUT FOR CARROLL FROSH

Appleton Quarterback, Three Other Former Valley Men, in Suits

Four former stars of Fox River Valley high school conference football teams are reporting, with 27 other candidates, for the Carroll college frosh squad, according to reports from Carroll. The men include Claude Bowlby, stellar quarterback of the 1924 and 1925 Appleton high grid squads and a forward on the Orange cage quint, Bowlby has been out of school, since starting with the Orange until this fall.

HIGH JUMP STAR — The other Valley men are well known here. They are Mikkelsen, West Green Bay, and Bruinooge and Orlebeck, Sheboygan. In football Mikkelsen was a center and he also played forward on the Purple cage squad. Orlebeck is a halfback and a stellar cage center, his work in the latter sport featuring the Valley conference until he graduated in January last year. He holds the conference record in the high jump, made in 1926 with a leap of 5 feet 10 1/2 inches, better than the state mark.

Bruinooge was all-conference end for Sheboygan last fall and played a good guard game in basketball. He also placed third in the broad jump here, scoring the only Chnr city high school points in the 1927 Valley conference meet. The frosh turnout is the largest at Carroll since the freshmen rule went into effect in the Wisconsin-Illinois conference, in which the Packers have won the title for the last two years.

The freshman coach to date has scheduled three games. Oct. 8, his team will go to Elgin, Ill., to play Elgin Junior college; Oct. 15 to Northwestern Naval academy at Lake Ge-

Pat Page Needs Linemen To Build Indiana Eleven

Bloomington, Ind.—(P)—Coach Pat Page of Indiana University, will have to develop a pair of ends, a tackle and a guard if he is to get anywhere in the Western Conference football race this season.

Buck Weaver of Terre Haute, Ind., probably will be shifted from the backfield to right end at the start, while Antrim Catterton of Kenosha, Wisconsin., a substitute wingman last year, will be on the other end of the line. Several other moleskin athletes also will try for the places.

Butts and Hull, who have won their letters in the gridiron for Indiana in other years, will try for their old positions at tackle. Bundy, Ringwalt, Shields, Springer and Joe Dudding, a 230 pounder, are the new candidates.

The graduation of Bishop left a yawning hold at guard. Bruner, the other regular guard, will return. David, Fullam, Gonce, Ritchey and Trobaugh, who were freshmen last year, and the veterans Hull and Heilmann will try to prove to Page's satisfaction that they are good enough to fill Bishop's shoes.

Matthew and Randolph, veterans, neva, and Oct. 22 the Colts will play Great Lakes Naval training team.

Following are the men who are reporting to Coach Batha:

La Verdure, Norway, Mich.; West, Ironwood, Mich.; Rusch, Medford, Dancy, Goerke, Waukesha; Bruinooge, Orlebecke, Sheboygan; White, Stevens Point; Mikkelsen, West Green Bay; Anderson, Norway, Mich.; Smith Spartar; Fultette, Wantoma; Sutton, Beaver Dam; Mahland, Stevens Point; Krueger, Milwaukee; BOWLEY, AP- PLETON; Glasgow, Kansas City, Kan. Notholm, Abbotford; Kafka, Antigo; Rasmussen, Marshfield; Wolfe, Waukesha; Waldemeyer, Kenosha; Cam- bier, Waukesha; Caranhan, Tulsa, Okla.; Lewis, East Port, Me.; Lamb, Janesville; Huddleston, Sparta; Rogers, Waukesha; Koonz, Shawano; Rossman, Marshfield.

West, at center; Ruesch, 200-pound tackle; La Verdure, tackle; Goerke, star high school backfield; Bruinooge and Orlebecke, the "twins" from Sheboygan; Dancy, guard; White at end; Rasmussen, Huddleston, and Mikkelsen are showing real promise and their work has greatly pleased the frosh mentor.

The company almost nightly is furnishing the varsity with hotly contested scrimmages which are working a big advantage with both aggregations.

NEW RIPON MENTOR TO REPLACE BOBBY KOLF

Ripon—Whether or not the Crim- son line of grid huskies at Ripon col- lege can withstand onslaughts from rival elevens this season, will depend largely on the coaching of Russell Rippe, new assistant football mentor here, who has been appointed line coach by Carl H. Doehling, athletic di- rector.

Rippe comes to Ripon college from Stoughton, where he made a name for himself as one of the best high school coaches in Wisconsin. He was a great athlete star at La Crosse normal, as did Kolf, and probably aid Coach Doehling in track. Although he will devote much time to football line coaching this fall, the new Crimson mentor will also instruct in physical education, now offered at Ripon col- lege as a four-year major subject.

Richard "Red" Smith, Combined Locks, former Kaukauna high school, Lawrence college and Notre Dame football star, will coach the Blue freshman squad this fall, it was an- nounced Wednesday by Blue athletic authorities. Smith and Thomas "Red" Heardon, Notre Dame, captain and halfback last year and former grid hero of East Green Bay high, were named to assist Mark Catlin, with the Blue varsity last week, but now Smith has been shifted to the frosh.

William Ashe, Kaukauna, frosh coach last year, who had started the work again this fall will act in an advisory capacity to Smith, giving up the active job because of press of other work. Heardon will coach the Blue varsity rear wall. Both Reds are play- ing pro ball with the Green Bay Pack- ers. The frosh probably will be play- ing "Notre Dame" style of football in another week or so.

For the past Coach Catlin has been spending most of his time with the Lawrence bac's and turning linesmen over to George Christoph, assistant athletic director. The splitting up of the team into two divisions has per- mitted each of the coaches to spend more time with the individual men.

The same crowd will be at 12 Cors. Sun. You are invited.

FLYNN GETS $75,000 FROM FORMER TITLIST

New York—(P)—The services of Leo P. Flynn, who managed Jack Dempsey in his fights with Jack Sharkey and Gene Tunney, were worth $75,000 to the former champion over a 30-day period. Dempsey has given Flynn a check for that amount under a blank contract in which the Manassas mauler was allowed to stipulate the sum at the expiration of the agreement.

Flynn said at the outset he was will- ing to accept what Dempsey consid- ered he was worth.

Jerry Ludavis known as "Jerry the Greek" it is understood was to re- ceive $25,000.

Definite information regarding the payment of Tunney for the services of his manager, Billy Gibson, was lacking but it was estimated at $100,000 to $250,000. Lou Fink, the cham- pion's trainer, was scheduled to re- ceive a bonus of $20,000.

Bill McCabe and Eddie Egan, two of Tunney's close friends were to share in the titleholder's Chicago earnings of $1,000,000.

JACK LOCKWILL, THE LION TAMER

The driver of the speeding motorcycle was a dust-covered, grumpy-faced boy, not more than sixteen years old. "Devils on wheels!" shouted the man in the ditch, shaking both fists at the boy, a wild light in his eyes. "You think you own the roads and the whole earth!" Seeing him, the boy shut off the spark and applied the brake, bringing his machine to a stop.

"What's happened here?" asked the boy, leaving his motorcycle by the roadside and hurrying to the wild-looking man. "Are you hurt? Can I do anything for you?"

There was a hypnotic glitter in the man's eyes as he gazed up at the solicitous lad. "There's nobody cares what happens to me!" he answered. "Who are you, anyhow?"

"My name is Jack Lockwill," was the reply, "and I'm from the boys' camp of 'Brick' Judge, at Indian Lake." Instantly a surprising change came over the man. "Brick Judge," he cried. "My old friend, Brick Judge! And you're Jack Lockwill, his ward? Why, I've heard of you! I saw him two years ago, and he told me all about you." Helped by Jack, he stood on trembling legs. LITTLE CONTAGIOUS DISEASE IN CITY

One Case of Scarlet Fever and Several of Chicken-pox Are Reported

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—New London schools have finished their first month comparatively free from contagious diseases, according to Miss Loretta Rice, school nurse. One case of scarlet fever was reported in the fifth ward, and several cases of chicken-pox in the third ward also have been quarantined. A few colds have developed during the recent rainy weather.

RAINFALL WILL BENEFIT FARMERS OF COMMUNITY

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—According to A. L. Haase, who is charge of the federal weather bureau, 2.03 inches of rain had fallen from Sunday morning to Wednesday night. Sunday's rainfall was 17 of an inch, Monday's .80, Tuesday's .30, and Wednesday's .76 of an inch.
Mr. Haase stated that, though this has been a long-drawn out rainfall, the amount of water is much less than sometimes falls in 24 hours. He also stated that the rain will be of great benefit to farmers who, prior to this time, have been unable to do their fall plowing because of the excessive dryness of the soil. While lowland farmers may evince some anxiety regarding the prospect of getting on their land for the corn cutting season, Mr. Haase believes that the rain, falling slowly, will do no great damage, even on low-lying territory.

Doctor at 83 Finds People Still Prefer His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.
Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.
The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.
We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Sheboygan Club Entertains for International President of Luncheon Club

Five members of the Appleton Lions club attended the reception given Tuesday evening at Sheboygan for Harvey L. Kamp, of Johnston, Pann., international president of the Lions, and Giles Putnam, New London, district governor for Wisconsin. The Sheboygan club was host to representatives of practically every club of the state at a banquet and program at the chamber of commerce rooms in honor of the leaders. Appleton men at the program were: Frank Younger, president H. L. Bowdler, E. C. Cahill, Harvey Schiltz and Frank McGowan.

After the banquet Mr. Kamp was the principal speaker. He told of the work of the Lions, saying that it was an outstanding contribution to the nation. One national project of the club is to help the blind and all clubs of the nation are planning to observe a special Help the Blind week from Oct. 17 to 24, he said. He also told of a night in early December when the Lions will become "kings of the air." Forty-two broadcast stations will complete a chain over which the international club will sponsor a program.

Lions clubs all over the country were urged to stand back of the American youth of today, by Mr. Kamp. Some people are launching propaganda to make the public believe that the young people are not as strong or good as they used to be. However, there are many who are stronger-minded, Mr. Kamp declared. He cited the case of Colonel Charles Lindbergh, who is a Lion, as an example.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT SAME AS LAST YEAR

Few More in Conservatory and Few Less in College Proper, Report Says

Despite the fact that tuition was raised a slight increase in enrollment in the conservatory of music and a small decrease in the student body of the college of liberal arts of Lawrence college was announced Thursday.

Every class in the conservatory of music has a total enrollment of 240 students, or twelve more than on October 1 a year ago, while the college of liberal arts has 675 students registered, which is 25 less than at this time in 1926. There are twenty fewer freshmen enrolled in the college proper than last year, the report stated.

Every class in the conservatory of music has a larger number of students enrolled than last year, and the registration of students in the public school music courses, under Dr. Earle L. Baker has been so large that there is thought of moving the department into separate quarters.

With the appointment of eight new members to the faculty of the college of liberal arts within the past two years, Lawrence now has a ratio of one faculty member to every twelve students, believed to be the highest ratio of any college in the middle west.

The Lawrence faculty, a study of its personnel for this year shows, has 29 members out of 55 who have earned the degree of doctor of philosophy in leading universities. This is the largest number on any college faculty in the middle west.

There is a check letter "D" in the upper left and lower right hand corners. The "D" in the lower right is followed by the face value number, 158, in very small numerals. The notes bear the portrait of President Cleveland but it is said to be a poor one that should arouse suspicion. The seal and serial are also of color while the back of the note is a mussy green in appearance and the outlines of the locomotive, automobile, steamship and tugboat are noticeably indistinct.

WANT MORE DRAINAGE IN RAT RIVER REGION

State to Survey Territory and Estimate Cost of Dredging Creek

Riparian land owners and their association are making plans to secure the help of the state drainage department in dredging a slough through the Rat river near Fremont with the view of reclaiming better drainage in that section in the spring of the year when flood waters are high. A representative of the state department is expected to begin surveying the river and estimating the cost of the project within the next week or ten days.

The association is convinced, it was said, that its investigation shows that the present condition of the river which is filled with mud and silt, does not permit free drainage of flood waters and that to open a slough is the only remedy for the trouble. Several years ago it was stated the matter was taken up with the chief of engineers at Washington, D. C. by Congressman Lampert of Oshkosh, but government aid was refused.

Allan H. Tripp, president of the Association for the Relief of High Water and flood waters, said that the state drainage department and the proposed survey and estimate have resulted.

'Use No Hooks,' Likely To Become Fishermen's Motto

At last! A system has been devised whereby Friend Wife can fish without worrying about how it must hurt the worm to be placed on the hook and how it must hurt the poor little fish to have that horrid hook in its mouth. This new system was recently devised by Harry A. Shannon, clerk of courts, and although he has not put his idea into actual practice as yet, he soon intends to do so.

Mr. Shannon said he got the idea as the result of a story appearing in the Post-Crescent which told of an Appleton hunter who was returning to shore after an unsuccessful day on the river in an attempt to shoot some ducks, when a large pickerel jumped out of the water and into the boat. Mr. Shannon said this very same thing happened to him several years ago when he was returning from a hunting trip and he set his wits at work to see whether he could devise some scheme to capture the fish by utilizing their ability to jump from the water. Here is the result: "Late in the evening the fish always make for shallow water near the shore of the lake to feed," Mr. Shannon explained. "When a hunter comes along near the shore the fish are scared away and often jump out of the water and sometimes into the boat. That is what happened when we were hunting that day several years ago and the fish jumped into our boat."

"My idea is to place a so-called apron slide on the side of the boat, which would ride very low in the water. In the twilight just after sunset I will row along the shore near the marshes and as the fish become aware of my approach they will start for deeper water in the center of the lake. I will let down the apron slide and some of the fish will shoot up the slide and

SCHOOLS ARE READY FOR COLD WEATHER; COAL BINS ARE FULL

Schools of Appleton have enough coal in their cellars to last until the Christmas holidays, according to Alex Robedreau, city weigh master. Additional coal will be placed in the bins during the vacation, when the pupils are away. Enough coal will be placed in the bins at that time to last until the spring vacation, when the supply again will be renewed. The school bins are filled during vacation so that the pupils will not be bothered.

over the side of the boat into the bottom.

"Absolutely fool proof fishing and ought to meet with the hearty approval of the humane society," Mr. Shannon said.

The court clerk declared he has not patented his idea but that he was big hearted and any other sportsman who wished to make use of his suggestion were at liberty to do so.

$514.09 DEPOSITED IN SCHOOL'S BANKS

Practically Every Student Is Participating in Thrift Plans

A total of $514.09 was deposited in thrift banks last week by 2,458 pupils out of the 2,670 enrolled in the Appleton public schools, according to the banking statement made Sept. 20. The balance on deposit is now $24,762.58.

Thrift banking in the Appleton public schools is accomplishing a great deal, school officials say. It helps to form a habit of regular banking among the school children and stimulates the desire to save.

At the Columbus school every student enrolled deposited, the total sum amounting to $49.35; at Franklin 265 out of 280 deposited $39.65; at Fourth ward 174 out of 195 deposited $25.11; at Richmond 68 out of 70 deposited $3.70; at McKinley 92 out of 94 deposited $16.90; at Lincoln 138 out of 148 deposited $32.94; at First ward 394 out of 400 deposited $125.40; at Roosevelt 363 out of 399 deposited $116.07; at Wilson 184 out of 185 deposited $26.00; at Washington 361 out of 421 deposited $42.63; and at Jefferson 176 out of 233 deposited $21.67.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads —Dissolve Them

Squeezing out blackheads makes large pores. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calomel powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little, will disappear at once.

AT THE CENTENNIAL

THE crowds at the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876 were stirred with wonder! The Exposition hummed with news of a new floor covering. "It's simply exquisite," exclaimed the charming ladies who saw it. "So easily cleaned — and without beating," exulted others. "So restful underfoot," was another enthusiasm expressed, as tiny feet trod across it.

The new floor covering was—linoleum—and Wild's Linoleum if you please. It had been recently manufactured in America for the first time by Joseph Wild. He it was who alone exhibited the linoleum that stirred the crowds at the Centennial in 1876. He it was in the ensuing years who promoted the linoleum industry in America and initiated every great advance in linoleum manufacture and design.

This leadership in style and wearing quality characterizes the Wild's Linoleum that you buy today. Ask for Wild's by name to insure authentic linoleum styles, sponsored by America's oldest linoleum manufacturer.
